Black Female Graduates From Academy

Miss Joylan Y. Netter is a native of Tacoma, WA and the daughter of Mrs. Georgia Edmonds. She graduated from Foss High School in 1977. After attendance at T.C.C., she entered the Washington Army National Guard in 1978. Her first assignment after enlisting was Ft. Jackson, where she received Basic Training. Assignment later was at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind., where she graduated as a Legal Clerk. She was assigned to the staff Judge Advocates office and remained there until she entered Officer Candidate School in 1980. She will go to the Adjutant General's Officer Basic Course sometime in 1981. She is assigned to Co A, 181st Spt Bn as a Second Lieutenant in Seattle, WA.

Miss Netter is the second female black to graduate from the Washington Military Academy (OCS) to date. She is the Vice-President of the Youth Chapter in the N.A.A.C.P., and a member to the Toastmaster's International. She works at Old National Bank in downtown Tacoma. She accredits her mentor, MAJ Aaron R. Dean for helping her reach her goals, and for helping her for her successful career within and outside of the National Guard.

A Different Breed Of Campus Worker

By Jerome J. Mayfield
(Mr. Mayfield is the Associate Dean of Students for the University of Puget Sound, Tacoma, Washington.)

I am almost convinced that there exists a quasi-conspiracy in the U.S. system higher education, but I do not fully comprehend the meaning of this perceived plot. I often have to fight the urge to explain it as plain old orthodox racism - that seems too simple an explanation.

This conspiracy is aimed at college and university minority personnel workers newly employed into the structure of white education. There obviously exists the assumption that minority personnel workers are something different from their white counter parts.

The consequence of this asumption is exemplified in positions minorities have been asked to fill on campuses over the past decades. We have become assistant to the president, dean or minority counselor responsible for select groups of American ethnic minority students. I am still not too sure what significance the "special" (adjectives) places on the positions. Does it imply a job with more status to it? Or, maybe , it is intended to disallow any assumption about permanence. At any rate, all of these positions are outside of the institutions' hierarchial structure.

Other titles come to mind, but they all seem like a ludicrous joke when one considers that the majority and minority problems in human relations are the function of skin color, or race and generally initiated and perpetuated by the dominant group. If this is the case, how can members of the subordinate group be expected to solve those problems when they are perceived (either consciously or subconsciosly) by the dominant group as being the problem by virtue of membership in the minority group?

I am somewhat convinced that the minority personnel worker is expected to solve the problems dictated by the job - for the titles leave the assumption that demands it. The irony of filling the university vacancy that calls for equal opportunity or equal rights is the asking of graduates, undergraduates and community people to head or make up important committees for the expressed purpose of helping the university find and hire minority administrators, faculty and student personnel workers. Surely, nothing could be more painful that low-ranking minority employees and students experiencing mental anguish over how efficient they are in getting minority professors and personnel workers hired, or to express their concerns to the administration and other personnel for contradicting the minority personnel worker.

I think that, like the assistant or minority counselor, we become convenient pawns that

Committee To Be Established

Keith Angier, Director of General Administration, presented a plan for increasing Department contracts with minority and women's business enterprises, Friday, August 21.

The Friday meeting, called by Rindetta Stewart, Assistant Superintendent of the Tacoma Public Schools, came about as a follow-up to the Minority's Orientation Seminar held at The Evergreen State College on March 25th. At this seminar, Mr. Angier asked for interested persons to assist in implementing a plan.

The meeting of theses interested people was held to help establish a Minority and Women's Business Enterprise Advisory Committee for the Department of General Administration. Governor Spellman has given Mr. Angier specific responsibility for improving the Department's performance in contracting with minority and women business enterprises.

Tacoma Says Thanks And So Long

Judge Elizabeth Shackleford, a life-time resident of Tacoma will soon be moving to Oklahoma where she will be making her new home with her sister, Dr. Martha Shackleford.

Judge Shackleford has spent many years as Justice Court District Judge of Pierce County. She has donated many hours of legal advice and service to the community organizations which include the NAACP, Caballeros, City Association of Colored Women as well as the senior citizens and more.

Prior to her judgship, she served as member of the Freeholders who wrote the present charter for the City of Tacoma.

Subsequent to her retirement from the Court, she was active in the Model Cities organization.Judge Shackleford was an active lawyer practicing for more than 50 years.

In addition, she has been an active member of many organizations in Tacoma, including the NAACP, The Tacoma City Association of Colored Women's Clubs, The Soroptimist Club, the Business and Professional Women's Club and the first Methodist Church.

In 1978,she received her "Distinguished Citizen" award from the Municipal League of Tacoma/Pierce County.

There will be a reception and farewell party honoring Judge Elizabeth Shackleford. The public is cordially invited. Dr. Delores Silas, President of NAACP and Thomas Dixon, President of the Tacoma Urban League are the coordinators of this event.

The reception will be held on 10 O'Clock Saturday morning at the City Association of Colored Women's Clubhouse located on 23rd & Yakima.

Cycle Safety

By Pepper Murray

The popularity of motor cycle riding is evident by the variety of riders and two-wheeled motor vehicles appearing on the streets and highways. Motorcyclist have the same rights and responsibilities on public roadways as other highway users. While legally everyone must abide by teh same traffic laws, there are special situations and conditions you need to be aware of so you can share the road safely with those who choose to use two wheels instead of four.

Recently, Frank Frison, a motorcycle enthusiast was involved in a cycle accident and has some very valuable information to pass on to young cyclists. "I was lucky," said Frison, "Because of not being fully equipped. I received a cracked shoulder blade, gouged knee, and I'm a litte sore from the bump off the concrete."

"Cycle riding is a full time job," Frison continued. "Think only about riding the bike. Remember also to keep 'octagon vision', (that's vision of the fron, back, right, left, all corners and directions). Being fully equipped is important; proper clothing, boots, and helmet, especially using the helmet in the city." (Note: Washington State law does not require cyclists to wear a helmet, but the majority of fatal cycle accidents are due to head injury).

"Most motorcycle accidents happen because the driver of an automobile doesn't see the cycle", said Frison. Primarily because motorcycles are not easily identified in traffic. Motorcycles are only about two feet wide compared with the five and six-foot width of an automobile. Even when seen it's difficult for some drivers to judge how far away motorcyclists are.

Perhaps, some have no intention of operating and special vehicles such as motorcycles and mopeds, but as a responsible drivers we should be aware of their particular requirements and should be prepared to provide them the same respect as due other vehicles on the roadway.

And Frank Frison says in conclusion "for the education and safety of young cycle riders learn all you can about the bike, before you take the bike out on the street."

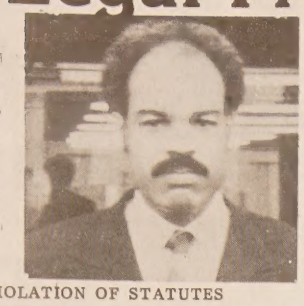
Legal FACTS



James Buckley, a Washington attorney, recently returned to Tacoma and joined the law firm of Herrmann Levenson, Margulis & Finch, after having spent three (3) years as a senior deputy prosecuting attorney with Thurston County. He was assigned to the criminal law section.

Buckley will be writing a weekly article for The Tacoma Facts over the next several months. His articles will cover various areas of the law.

NEGLIGENCE - VIOLATION OF STATUTES

The standard of conduct required of a reasonable person may be prescribed by legislative enactment. When a statute provides that under certain circumstances, particular acts shall or shall not be done, it may be interpreted as fixing a standard for all members of a community, from which it is negligence to deviate. The fact that such legislative is usually penal in character and carries with it a criminal penalty, will not prevent its use in posting civil liability. It is not every provision of a statute or ordinance which will be adopted by the Court in a civil action for negligence, as a standard of conduct of a reasonable person. The question becomes one of when the Court will look to a statute for its negligence standard of conduct of a reasonable person.

There are many statutes, such as those directed against various activities on Sunday, which obviously are intended only to protect such interests of the State, or the community at large, as public peace, morality and quiet, rather than those of any particular class of individuals. It follows that if a railroad violates such a statute, by running a train on Sunday, a private individual, as for example, the owner of a cow killed on the track, cannot base an action upon that violation alone, without other evidence of negligence. The Courts have carved out a number of factors to be considered in determined whether or not violation of a statute is negligence as a matter of law.

The Court first determines whether or not the plaintiff falls within the class of persons that the statute was intended to protect. A statute that requires automobile registration is for revenue purposes only and creates only a public duty, and does not make the driver of an unlicensed vehicle liable to those with whom he collides if he is otherwise exercising reasonable care.

The same limitation of the effect of the statute to accomplish only the supposed policy of the legislature is found in the requirement that the harm suffered by the victim must be of the kind which the statute was intended to prevent. Statutes which specify the type of headlights which must be used on an automobile, is meant to protect collisions which occur at night or at other times when an individual cannot see clearly. Violation of a statute which specify the type of headlights to be used on the vehicle is irrelevant to an accident that occurs during broad daylight. Violation of such a statute would not be negligence as a matter of law. The type of risk or harm involved would not be of the kind in which the statute was intended to prevent. In such a situation, violation of the statute would be immaterial and the reasonable person standard would be applied.

Campus

university administrators can point to when something goes wrong: "We have Mr. or Ms. Minority handling that problem concerning the minority students."

One thing is obvious. If the university wanted minorities to enter the mainstream of higher education work force, they would be hired in the established or traditional postions. This has not been the case over the past decades. The essence of minority-majority students crises on campuses has led to the creation of new positions for minority persons with little power and authority, or the filling of positions that indicate Super-Minority. They offer no potential for upward or lateral job mobility.

I am not advocating that minorities do not or should not assume these new positions. However, I insist that when these positions become meaningless beyond their titles and become a way to refer responsibility to someone having little or no authority to solve the human-relations problem, the cause of higher education is probably being hurt.

Higher education, like any other system in this country, has to realize that minorities must become an integral part of the educational employing process. Minorities filling these new or special-title positions are beginning to realize that this type of employment process is typical and systematic process for not entering the higher education and U.S. economic work force.

The present premise upon which universities operate in hiring minority personnel workers is an insult to the minority community. To suggest (by behavior) that the country's educated minorities will not become an integral part of the educational system also has implications for the minority university student personnel worker's not-so-lucky brothers and sisters. Minority personnel workers are becoming aware of this and are finding it difficult to withstand the presures dictated by the implications.

This concern and problem can only be explained as a fetus. It will grow, as it already has, until the womb that nurtures it decides against its existence. College and university student personnel workers have to realize this. If we do not, who can predict what kind of educated prototype will emerge in America?

Announcement

The Miles Memorial C.M.E. Church will be sponsoring a Fall Revival starting September 21 thru 25, 1981. Services will commence nightly at 7:00 p.m. Our guest will be the 'Singing Evangelist', the Rev. Dr. Jesse L. Douglas, Sr. of Jamison Memorial C.M.E. Temple, Kansas City, Missouri. Climaxing the revival there will be a musical on Sunday, September 27, 1981, at 3:30 p.m. Come and have a glorious time in the Lord. Call Theda Cherry at 759-9296 for further information.

Radiothon For UNCF

The United Negro College Fund and Radio Station KTOY have teamed up for the first radiothon ever scheduled in the Tacoma area. This most important benefit fund begins at 8 am and extends to 8 pm in its widespread appeal to the Tacoma area community. The event will take place September 5.

This year's novel radiothon features "Black Music America." The radio special highlights all aspects of Black music. These include blues, jazz, rock and roll, ragtime, folk, gospel and disco. Stars of attraction are Mr. Lou Rawls, Mr. Don Cornelius and Ms. Nancy Wilson. Slated artists range from Gertrude "Ma" Rainey, a minstrel singer in the 1900's now known as "The Mother of the Blues", to the current popular vocalist Cheryl Lynn Also featured to be heard are a host of great musicians such as Louis Armstrong, Duke Ellington, Count Basie, Scott Joplin, Bessie Smith, Nat King Cole, Mahalia Jackson, Ray Charles and Stevie Wonder.

The United Negro College Fund is a non-profit voluntary membership organization through which 41 private, predominantly Black, fully accredited colleges make a combined nationwide appeal for current operating funds. On a national basis, UNCF has set a goal to raise $21.5 million this year. The state of WA expects to contribute $100,000 toward the national target amount.

Best recognized by its slogan, "A Mind is a Terrible Thing to Waste", the UNCF is classified as a broadly based public charity. A contribution to the United Negro College Fund today in educational pursuits is an important investment in America as a strong society tomorrow. UNCF urges the entire community to give generously to preserve the future through quality education, while helping a student to expand his or her mind.

A Young man Says Thanks

Willie D. Turner, born on July 27, 1957 in Topeka, Kansas. The proud son of T/Sgt. George R. Wells/Little Rock Arkansas and Mrs. Willie M. Welks/Tacoma Washington and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Lee H. Williams/Holton Ks.

Living most of my life throughout varies parts of the world, I was able to live with different ethnic groups at such a very young age. As a youngman I can really say that the experience was a great learning tool for my family, as well as for myself.

My parents were very strict on my brothers and sisters, and wanted nothing less than the best for their children. So upon graduation from Topeka High School. I entered the Kansas National Guards. My training took me to Fort Dix N.J. for basic camp, where I was ranked the number three soldier in my company. (Delta 1bn 3) Advance camp was held at Fort Belvior, Va where I held the rank as asst. class leader, and finished among the top 15% percent of my graduating class. The class had only five black men, and it was a pleasure for us all to rank high among our classmates. In August 24, 1978, I entered predominate black college named Bowie State College with the total enrollment of 2,700 students. My study of concentration is in Business Administration (Marketing) with a minor in economic.

Having completed the 2 yr. program of Army R.O.T.C. I was recently commissioned into the District of Columbia National Guard Military Police, as 2nd/Lt. Willie D. Turner.

Some of my hobbies are, track, water-polo, basketball, wrestling, football, and sight-seeing.

My goals in life is to one day become the first Black General from Bowie State College, and to one day become a ranger with the Special Forces in Fort Benning Georgia. Also, influence other young blacks to stride for the very best in life. Education is a must and the only way for a better life.

I can look back now and say thanks to my parents and family members, because without the love of you all, I wouldn't be where I'm today. Special thanks to Mr. & Mrs. Curtis L. Turner & Family/ Tacoma Washington, Mr. & Mrs. Joseph N. Turner/ Tacoma Washington, Mr. & Mrs. James Jefferies/Fort Bliss Texas, Ms. Patricia L. Wells & Family/Tacoma Washington, and my beloved litte brother Mr. Gary W. Wells/Tacoma Washington.

Black Business Association

In this day of Reaganomics and supply side economics, it is no wonder that the Black Business People of Tacoma zre once again struggling for survival.The Black Business Association (BBA) is attempting "To re-emerge from the shadows with concepts and methods it proposes t use in the fight against business blight." These methods and concepts will center around a spirit of self helf and of a cooperative effort that effects all Black People. The Black Business Association is not a social club but is geared to "getting down" to the business of survival. If that's "your bag", please call 627-9903 Charles Walker or the Facts 627-5862

IN LOVING MEMORY

ROCHELLE MARGARET-AGNES VENABLE JOHNSON was a loving wife and a devoted daughter, caring sister, and affectionate person to her numerous relatives and friends.
Rochelle was born February 9, 1950 in Detroit, Michigan born to the union of Allen and Pereditha Venable.
She was baptized at an early age at the Tabernacle Baptist Church in Detroit under the sponsorship of the late Dr. Jesse Jai McNeil and later became a member of First AME church in Seattle. Rochelle attended public schools in Detroit and graduated from Central High School in 1968, attended U of WA and pursued a course study in Political Science.
On Feb. 17, 1979, Rochelle Venable and Darryl Johnson were united in holy matriomony by the Rev. Samuel B. McKinney.
Rochelle was a friendly, energetic individual and her appreciation and zest for life was an inspiration to all who knew and loved her. The great creator called rochelle to her eternal home on Friday, Aug. 21, 1981 and she was joined the same day by their precious daughter, Carla Mignon Johnson.
Rochelle leaves to cherish her memory her devoted, beloved husband, Darryl, Seattle; her parents, Allen and Pereditha Venable, Detroit, MI; her sisters, Rossalind Woodhouse, Tacoma, and Victoria Fletcher, Charleston, S.C.; her brother, Allen Venable, Detroit, MI; her grandfather, Alexandr Wright, Detroit, MI, and grandmother, Agnes Venable, Detroit, MI; parents in law, George and Velma Johnson, Tacoma, godmother, Anne Lowndes, Detroit; godparents, Edward and Thelma Bailey, Detroit, MI; also four uncles, one aunt, sisters in law, brothers in law, nieces and nephews, and a host of other relatives and friends.
Rochelle would want life to be joyous and compassionate. We must remember her for the untold acts of kindness and deeds which reflect her love to all who came in contact with her. She leaves with us a legacy of love and devotion.

Food FACTS

ROYAL ROULADES FOR BRUNCH. Two dressy roulades for elegant, swim-dish brunches can zesty Tabasco pepper sauce...and make guests go "ah-h-h."

ROYAL ROULADES FOR BRUNCH

Ah...roul-ah-de. It's time to be a little fanciful, a little sophisticated for brunch.

Impress guests by serving variations of the classic French roulade, or roll, for a main-dish Sunday Brunch or fancy luncehon. Traditional roulades emphasize thin slices of veal or pork that are spread with a filling and rolled into a sausage. True to native ingenuity, the American versions utilize more economical ingredients such as egg and flour to form the roll. The fillings, easily prepared a day in advance, require no more than five mainstay ingredients; it's a simple shopping list to create outstanding, dressy brunches.

The Sausage Filled Roulade makes a bold presentation as a long, golden loaf with a moist center. Tender minced onion and green flecks of spinach lace through meaty bits of sausage, while melted shreds of Monterey Jack cheese bind the filling. Piquant Tabasco pepper sauce completes the warm flavors of both roll and filling with a gentle sassiness. Guests are awakened to a compendium of flavors, colors and textures in this roulade--which seems so complex at first glance (but really isn't).

You don't have to be a vegetarian to find the Vegetable Filled Roulade appealing. Made with an easy-to-fix filling of minced onions, mushrooms and carrots, it is another roulade suitable for royal brunching. The subtle taste of herbs here is perked by Parmesan cheese. Garnish the loaf with squares of American cheese to give it a toasty golden color; you might also add other toppings such as pimiento, olives or anchovies for dramatic effect (and flavor).

How do you speel brunch chic? R-o-u-l-a-d-e. Ah...

SAUSAGE FILLED ROULADE

- 1/4 c. butter or margarine
- 1/4 c. flour
- 3/4 teaspoon salt, divided
- 3/4 cup milk
- 1/4 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce
- 6 eggs, separated
- 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
- 3 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
- Sausage Filling*
- 1 large tomato, thinly sliced

Grease a 15 x 10½ x 1-inch jelly-roll pan; line with waxed paper; grease the paper. In medium saucepan melt butter; stir in flour and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Cook 1 minute. Gradually add milk and Tabasco sauce. Cook stirring constantly until mixture thickens and leaves bottom of pan. With a wire whisk or fork, beat egg yolks. Beat in thickened mixture. In large bowl of electric mixer combine egg whites, remaining 1/4 teaspoon salt and cream of tartar. Beat until stiff peaks form. Fold egg yolk mixture into egg whites. Spread mixture into prepared jelly-roll pan. Bake in a 350 degree F. oven 15 to 20 minutes, or until surface is puffed and firm when pressed with fingertip. Invert on aluminum foil sprinkled with Parmesan cheese. Peel off waxed paper. Spread surface evenly with Sausage Filling*. Roll up from long side. Leave roll on foil and place on cookie sheet. Arrange tomato slices over top. Broil, 4 inches from heat, until tomatoes are limp. Using large spatulas, place roulade on serving platter or board. If desired, serve with additional Tabasco sauce. Yield: 6-8 servings.

*SAUSAGE FILLING

- 1 pound bulk sausage
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1 package (10 ounces) frozen chopped spinach, thawed, drained
- 3/4 cup shredded Monterey Jack cheese
- 1/4 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce

In large skillet combine sausage and onion. Cook, breaking up with a fork, until sausage is browned and onion is soft. Stir in spinach, cheese and Tabasco sauce; heat. Use to fill roulade.

VEGETABLE FILLING

- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 2 cups finely chopped carrot
- 1 cup finely chopped onion
- 1/2 pound fresh mushrooms, finely chopped (2 cups)
- 1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
- 1/2 teaspoon dried leaf savory
- 1/4 teaspoon ground sage
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce

In medium saucepan melt butter; saute carrot and onion 4 to 5 minutes wuntil soft. Add mushrooms; cook 2 minutes longer. Stir in cheese, savory, sage, salt and Tabasco sauce.

Harvey Mason

Groovin' You, an dramatic advance, featured a gallery of high-calibre players. Most of the songs were Mason compositions, and the ensemble did a unique version of Antonio Carlos Jobim's "Wave." M.V.P., the latest Mason production, also includes a number of originals by Mason and his brother Kenny ("On And On,""How Does It Feel,""You And Me"), and all the tracks feature vocals (the lead singers are Deon Estus, Karen Floyd, and the Mason brothers). The whole album lives up to the standard Mason set for himself when he embarked on his solo career for Arista. "My music is based on new treatments of accepted concepts," he said. "I try to show myself as a total musician, not just a drummer."

Back To School

September marks the month for return students. Questions constantly arise regarding the quality of education being received these days.

As a result of talking to some of these return students, many see their return to school as another chance to bring their grades up to insure graduation next year. Some see their return as another year of challenge to prove to themselves as well as others that"we are what the future holds in the field of success."

According to Bishop T.L. Westbrook, Paster of New Jerusalem Church of God In Christ, Inc and Dean of the soon to open New Jerusalem Christian Academy,"American Education was born in the church and is, in reality a parent responsibility. He continues, "During the past few generations this responsibility has been turned over to a secular state and because of this, the quality of our children's education has suffered.

Because of this conclusion, A committee from the church conducted an investigation to determine the possibilities of establishing a Christain School that would meet the educational needs of the children in a Christ-center environment.

The investigation has resulted in theimplementation of a program of learning based on a non-denominational Biblical philosophy, individually prescribed self-instructional curriculum, and an advanced system of motivated learning. This educational program available from Accelerated Christian Education, Inc., is designed to provide character training for our children on a full time basis and an academic education for grades K6 at least equal or superior to that of government education.

New Jerusalem Christian Academy will open September 14, 1981. Applications are now being accepted. Check it out! For more information call the school at 572-6785 or 531-8432.

Another new school soon to open is Griffin's Learning and Day Care Center. It will be opened on September 1th, its address is 4515 South "M" Street in Tacoma.

The Center will be serving children from ages l years old to school age.

There will be an early childhood specialist on hand to supervise the educational program which will focus on the whole child - emotionally, socially, physically and intellectually. An individual plan of learning will be developed for each child. Daily programs include a variety of experiences, apropriate to the child's age and stage of development Nutritional hot lunches and snacks are served.

The daily activities in a bright clean environment with a cheerful caring staff adds up to a quality Day Care Program. Registration is now open, Open House will be held on August 27 through the 3lst from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m..For more information give them a call at 475-3662.

Watch the Facts for information about schools in your area for children interested in attending private and day care schools.

OIC Alive And Well

The summer months has been an interesting era for Tacoma/Pierce County Opportunities Industrializ ation Center says Elouise McHenry-Dupee' the Program Operations Manager.

The staff has continued to develop strategies to work more effectively with unemployed and unskilled citizens in the Tacoma/Pierce County area.

In June OIC received a Grant from the Medina Foundation to purchase a Lumisonic typing system in order to up grade the Business Skills Program, with this system a trainee will be able to master the Key-board and obtain typing skills in a shorter period of time than traditional accomplished.

Thanks to Charles and Jerri Jones, new owners of The 7-Eleven store located at 19th and "K" Street we now have actually on the job training in cashiering and store management.

Because of the number of clients that cannot be served by traditional institution due to low academic skills the pre-vocational staff has implemented an Adult Basic Education program in order for trainees to develop the necessary academic skills to excel in their given area of training.

Dupee' says she demands effective production from her staff and firmly believes that OIC staff must give a earnest day of work for the salary they earn. The Tacoma/Pierce County OIC staff thinks of themselves. This OIC family includes, Ruby Lively -Program Assistant, Bernice Watkins-Intake/Records Clerk, Eddie Griffin-Job Developer, Sheila Green Clerk Typist/Receptionist, Linda Geddy-GED Instructor, William Orrange-Pre -Vocational Coordinator, Larry Breeden-Business Skills Coordinator, and Virginia Lamb-ABE Instructor Gypsy Program.

In August the Board of Directors and the OIC staff welcomed to the OIC family Dr. Maxine Mimms as Director. Dr. Mimms brings with her many of experience in education and administation.

According to Dupee' because of the high unemployment rate there is greater need now than even before for OIC in the Tacoma Pierce County Area.

Willie's HAIR FACTS

Willie Smith

Willie Smith can be found at Frederick & Nelson in the Villa Plaza. He comes from Seattle specializing in haircare, cuts, colors, designer curls, California curls, wigs and make up. Look for him bi-monthly bringing you the latest news in beauty care.

Many of the calls I am reveiving are concerning the new permanents available to you. It seems that every manufacturer and salon has a different name for their system.

Many of the people who call are very disappointed to learn that I won't give a permanent over hair that has been relaxed by Sodium Hydroxide. When a perm is give over relaxed hair that has previously used that method the chances of success are very limited. For the most part the client will end up with very damaged hair.

The main reason this is not to been done is, chemically speaking, a bond in the hair has been destroyed by the sodium hydroxide relaxer. This bond is not needed when the client just blow dryes, press and curls, or sets their hair. The hair can be worked with and a great amount of success will be accomplished.

During the time that hair has been relaxed by Sodium Hydroxide and the growing out stage your hair can continue to be relaxed using the softening gel that is common with most permanent waves. Doing this when the time comes the hair has grown to the desired length, and the old hair cut off, a perm can be given with good results.

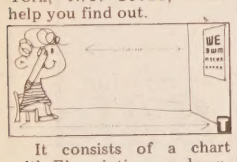
One last thing. When a perm is given it doesn't continually have to be worn in th curly style. Most of the salon perms out allow you to be very versatile in your looks. You can set your hair or you can blow it out straight then using a curling iron to curl the ends. Many of the styles that are popular now are having the best results because the stylist has used the permanent as a foundation along with the cut.

I really appreciate the response I am having. Feel free to call me anytime at work and if you have any ideas that have been useful for you and want to share please let me know. I would be more than happy to let our readers share.

TEST FOR TOTS

Is your child among the half a million preschool children in America with visior. problems?

A simple home eye test, available free from your state Society to Prevent Blindness or the National Society to Prevent Blindness, 79 Madison Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10016, could help you find out.



It consists of a chart with E's pointing up, down, to the left and to the right—plus instructions. If your child can't see as far as the third line with each eye, arrange for a professional eye examination.
